Dear Parents

A library is not a luxury but one of the necessities of life.-Henry Ward Beecher

Dear Parent

Libraries truly are remarkable and in today's world, we need them now more than ever. It has been found that a library in the classroom is crucial in helping students develop who they are as readers and have a sense of ownership over their reading.

It is with this thought we are introducing a 'LFL-Little Free Library' for every section of class IV- X. This opportunity is a step in sharing and builds a system of honour. The inception of the LFL is from the donations by passionate readers who've already benefitted from their favourite books and now want others to be acquainted with these gems. We are confident that you will see to it that the donated books are in good condition.

Once the LFL is set up, there'll be no 'policing' – no dread of having to wait for the RC period to get the book you want issued or the stress of returning it by a deadline. The readers will follow the policy of 'Take a Book, Leave a Book'. This will surely guarantee that the library is replete with interesting books all the time.

So, we hope that you shall be with us in this venture and ensure a steady flow of books in our innovative libraries.

Regards
